"Bombay Mail" At the Avalon Theatre Sunday

It is with a thrill that can't be described that the management of the Avalon Theatre announces the coming of the exotic and mysterious "Bombay Mail," a Universal mystery story, to this theatre on Sunday.

The screenplay, adapted from the book of the same name by L. G. Blochman, is based on the trip of the "Bombay Mail," a fast express train, from Calcutta to Bombay.

On this trip are the British governor, an aide who believes the governor is going to cashier him from the service, the governor's jealous wife, a miner with a fortune in rubies who wants to see him for some unknown reason, a revolutionist who has been discharged from a university because of the governor's action, a maharajah who fears he'll be deposed because of the governor, an Eurasian crook and his assistant, a hooded cobra, cyanide poisoning and several rounds of ammunition, with suitable weapons.

The governor is murdered! So is the maharajah! And Inspector Dyke, in the person of Edmund Lowe, steps in to investigate!

In the cast are Shirley Grey, Onslow Stevens, John Davidson, Heida Hopper, Tom Moore and many others.

Give your spine a tingle by seeing "Bombay Mail."

Also "Speed Wings," comedy and news.

The peppery Ginger Rogers seeks with Marian Nixon the same "Chance At Heaven" in Joel McCrea's romance in the picture of that name coming to the Lomita Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

On the same bill at the Lomita these three days is "Man's Castle," starring Spencer Tracy and Loretta Young.

LOS ANGELES YOUTHS HELD FOR INVESTIGATION

Frank McGinley, 7931 South Dillon; Glen Hutton, 5860 1/2 Holmes avenue; Ralph Crigler, 915 East 87th street, and Roland Allaire, 7809 Male street, all of Los Angeles, were taken into custody by Torrance police on Monday and held for investigation, when they were discovered stripping a car on Cedar avenue. At their hearing Tuesday, all four were found guilty of petty theft, fined $150 or 75 days in the county jail to which they were committed in default of payment.

Eleven New Landmarks In State Receive Official Recognition

SACRAMENTO, (U.P.)—Registration of 11 more official California landmarks to bring the total to 136 was announced today by Dan H. Blood, state director of natural resources.

The registration of the landmarks to make them official will result in the erection of proper signs, both at the site of the landmark and directional signs along the highways, Blood said.

Landmarks chosen for registration are first approved by a committee of historians. The new registration includes the following: Colton Hall, Monterey—Colton Hall, now serving as Monterey's city hall, was built in 1848-49 by Walter Colton, Yankee Alcade, and later was used as the meeting place of the constitutional convention called by Governor Bennett Riley in October, 1849.

Hacienda De Governor Pio Pico, Los Angeles county—This was the home of Pio Pico, last Mexican governor of California, (1845-46) and originally a hacienda of 30 rooms. Located two miles north of Whittier.

Landing place of Sebastian Viscaino and Fray Junipero Serra, Monterey county—Here it was that Viscaino landed on December 17, 1602, and claimed the country in the name of the king of Spain. On June 3, 1770, Fray Junipero Serra landed on the same spot to meet Capt. Gaspar de Portola who came overland from San Diego to found the Mission of San Carlos de Borromeo de Monterey and the Presidio of Monterey.

Port Tejon, Kern county—Here in the southeast corner of the San Joaquin valley was established a company of the first dragoons of the U. S. army in August, 1851.

Willow Springs, Kern county—A spring that permitted the routing of a stage line across the Mojave desert. The coming of the railroad in 1876 caused the death of Willow Springs.

Whiskeytown, Shasta county—Settled by gold miners in 1849. In 1855 there were a thousand miners in the vicinity taking out between $100 and $200 a day in gold. Only a few buildings now stand to hint at former days of glory.

Kernville, Kern county—Located as a mining town in 1860, Kernville still is the center of some mining and agriculture, and is the headquarters for many hunting and fishing parties and for motion picture companies on western "location."

Sebastian Indian reservation, Rancho El Tejon, Kern county—Originally one of five California Indian reservations founded in 1852, but abandoned in 1864 because of a controversy over land titles.

Donner monument, Nevada county—A monument erected in honor of the ill-fated Donner party.

Local CWA Workers Find Body In Surf

Ernest Schnoor, 24215 Lomita Drive, Lomita, and Fred Curier, 526 Sapphire street, Redondo Beach, CWA workers, employed on a beach project near Redondo, discovered the body of a man floating in the water near shore Monday morning.

Life guards were summoned and the corpse was brought ashore and taken to a local mortuary where it was identified as the body of Dr. S. C. Nelton, formerly a physician of Altadena and more recently an inmate of the county farm, Los Amigos, near Hondo. A letter, mailed from Redondo to friends in Altadena, which stated that by the time the letter had been received "all would be over," aided in the identification.
